

United States Justice Foundation

Founded in 1979 by a group of talented attorneys, United States Justice Foundation is a 501(c)(3) non-profit public interest legal action organization. The foundation informs and educates the public on important legal issues that currently plague American citizens today. USJF is rooted in traditional conservative values, preserving our constitutional liberties while focusing their efforts on expanding the conservative voice within judicial circles. Since 1980, USJF has successfully submitted testimony to the U.S. Senate, focusing on Supreme Court appointees, and sponsored conferences within ground-breaking legal matters. The United States Justice Foundation continues to work for the people, offering free studies and reports on the issues American patriots hold so close to the heart.
